

EMM 314

1. State briefly the reasons why a job should be selected for methods study.
2. Discuss briefly the areas we should focus on improving work methods.
3. Give reasons for excess work content with respect to defects in design or specifications of a product.
4. State briefly the reasons why we apply methods study in manufacturing or in services.

EMM 314

1. Give an outline of what can be achieved through work measurement.
2. What are the advantages of work sampling as compared to time study?
3. Explain the predetermined time study approach to work measurement.
4. Give an outline of the principles of motion economy as they relate to the use of human arms.
5. What factors do we consider in selecting a job for direct time study?